

Rohini Kanniganti, MD, MSPH, HMDC, is a Board Certified Family Physician

Rohini Kanniganti MD, MSPH, HMDC, is a Board-Certified Family Physician. She has served in Hospice and Palliative Care for over a decade, currently working with the Mountain Valley Hospice and Palliative Care in NC and Trailwinds Hospice in Boulder, CO. She is a fellow of the Integrative Psychiatry Institute (IPI, Boulder, CO), where she also completed the Ketamine Provider Certification and the Psychedelic Assisted Therapy Program. She currently also serves at the Integrative Psychiatry Institute as Faculty and Lead Physician for the Ketamine Experiential Program. She serves as Palliative Advisor for TheraPsil, Canada, and as Faculty for the End-of-Life Psychedelic Care Program, as well as the Relationship Resources in Woodstock NY in which she serves as medical co-lead for the Cultivating Joy Retreat series. She has been interviewed on "The Higher Practice Podcast", "TCN Talks", "The Conscious Physician Podcast" and "Tromedy". She has a new podcast series (with Claire Bigley), "The Sound and The Healing". She loves to teach from the attuned heart, with reverence for the inner movement toward wholeness in all beings. She honors context and community within healing process. She brings together care-full science and the sacred. She lives in Boulder, CO, finding joy in playfulness, creativity and nature.

She resides in Boulder, CO.